

GREAT CONGRESS OF PACIFIC WILL INCLUDE HAWAII

H. P. Wood To Be Delegate and W. R. Castle Will Deliver Address

SESSIONS TO BE HELD BEGINNING ON MONDAY

Panama-Pacific Conference Successor of Mid-Pacific Congress Honolulu Proposed

An unacknowledged child of the first Pan-Pacific Congress, held in Honolulu four years ago, the "first" Pacific Conference of the Asiatic Institute is to be held in San Francisco, July 18-25, in cooperation with the American Historical Association in the Panama-Pacific Historical Congress. Among the many distinguished speakers is to be W. R. Castle of Honolulu.

Invitations are extended to "all those interested in the affairs of the Pacific Basin and the relations of the two civilizations there," and the object of the conference is defined as a purpose "to determine the basis for a proposed Congress of the Pacific."

The official prospectus continues with an explanation that "the idea back of the conference is whether history is to be repeated in the Pacific, evils such as make up a large part of the records of man in the Atlantic. It will deal with the history of Pacific affairs that claim present attention, aiming at broad interpretation of the subjects discussed and, in the main, following the line along which understandings and cooperation between the countries of the two civilizations in the Pacific may be arrived at."

Wood To Represent Hawaii

H. P. Wood, chairman of the Hawaii Exposition Commission, will represent Hawaii at the conference. His appointment was made yesterday by Chairman Emil A. Bernad of the promotion committee and mailed to him in time to reach him on the day of the opening session.

At the same time, A. P. Taylor, acting director of the committee, wrote him as follows:

"Inasmuch as you were the first to propose a Pacific Congress, under the title of the Pan-Pacific Congress, and your committee suggests that you personally attend the conference, particularly in view of the grasp you have of the subjects that will come up for discussion, being largely the same which you proposed for the Pan-Pacific Congress. It looks as though this Panama-Pacific Congress is the successor of the Mid-Pacific Congress and I wish you would straighten them out a bit, so that the honor will rest with Hawaii."

Memorial To Rockhill

The second session of the conference, to be held July 20, will be a memorial to William Woodville Rockhill, the distinguished American diplomat, who died last year, while on his way to the Orient, and the general subject under discussion that day will be "The Pacific as the Theater of the World's Great Hereafter."

The President of the Asiatic Institute is William Howard Taft, former president of the United States. On the honorary committee are such distinguished men as Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University; Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California; Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook; Albert Bushnell Hart and Archibald Cary Coolidge, professors of history at Harvard; David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University; George Foster Peabody and Jacob Schiff, the New York bankers and philanthropists; and George W. Wickesham, formerly attorney general of the United States.

Some Noted Speakers Among the speakers will be President Eliot, Horace N. Allen, former United States minister to Korea; Jerome Greene of the Rockefeller Foundation; David Starr Jordan; John Barrett, director-general of the Pan American Union; Prof. David P. Barrows of the University of California; Sidney L. Guick of the Federal Council of Churches, well known in Honolulu; and Thomas J. O'Brien, former United States minister to Japan.

LIEUTENANT HARDIGG HAS TAKEN A BRIDE

Cards have been received in Honolulu from Mrs. Anna M. O'Brien of Parkersburg, West Virginia, announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary O'Brien, to Second Lieut. Carl Adolphus Hardigg of the Second Infantry, stationed at Fort Shafter. The ceremony took place at the O'Brien family home on June 30. The cards also announce that the couple will be at home at Fort Shafter after the first of September. Lieutenant Hardigg, who has been with the Second Infantry about three years, being assigned to that regiment on graduation from the military academy, is one of the most popular officers of the "outfit." He is attached to Company K. Lieutenant Hardigg left for the mainland in the May transport on three months' leave and will return with his bride in the August transport.

Wudan Makes One More Try For Passport

Chinese Nationalist Sends Another Cablegram To State Department For Relief

Wudan, the Chinese Nationalist leader, who has been denied a passport to the United States by Tzang Woonnan, the Chinese consul here, appealed by cable last night for the second time to the state department.

His first cable, forwarded July 2, has not been answered. If within the next three days the second cable does not meet with a more favorable reception, he has made up his mind to return to China and apply for a passport there. Since the Chinese authorities made no difficulty about granting him a passport to Hawaii, he expects none in obtaining one from them to the mainland. Neither President Wilson nor the state department ever have done the Chinese of Hawaii the courtesy to answer any of their communications. A cablegram addressed in duplicate to President Wilson and Sir Edward Grey, at the time of the excitement over the Japanese demands, was acknowledged within forty-eight hours by the British foreign office, but to this date there has been nothing from the Administration to show that it ever heard of the Chinese of Hawaii.

M'KENZIE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Well-Known Former Hilo Business Man Dies From Injuries In California

George S. McKenzie, well known in Honolulu and Hilo, died in Napa, California, on July 3, as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident. Rod McKenzie, brother of the dead man, was seriously injured, as was Mrs. Rod McKenzie, who fractured her collar bone and three fingers of the left hand. Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were, according to information received here yesterday by the sisters of Mrs. McKenzie, out of danger.

The dead man was some years ago connected with the Volcano Station at Hilo, when J. R. Wilson was sole owner of the big establishment. When the company which took over the business was organized the late Mr. McKenzie became its manager, being later succeeded by Charles E. Wright, who is yet manager of the concern.

Rod McKenzie, who was injured in the accident, was formerly manager of the Kahuku Plantation Company on this island. He later became assistant manager of the Lanipahoehoe Sugar Company on Hawaii. The two brothers were well known here. Mrs. Rod McKenzie is a sister of Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mrs. L. C. Ables and Mrs. J. H. Fisher of Honolulu.

Stanley McKenzie, manager of Love's Bakery, of this city, a son of the deceased, left here for the Coast last week upon receiving information of the accident which eventually resulted in his father's death.

A San Francisco paper of the morning following the accident had the following account of it:

"George S. McKenzie, well known San Francisco business man and former sheriff of Napa County, was seriously injured shortly before midnight in an automobile wreck near Napa, which resulted also in serious injuries to his brother, Rod McKenzie of Riverside and Mrs. Rod McKenzie. George McKenzie sustained a fractured collar bone and internal injuries. Mrs. Rod McKenzie sustained similar injuries, while her husband received painful cuts and bruises. The accident occurred when George McKenzie, who was at the wheel, attempted to avoid a collision with a machine running in the opposite direction, driven by S. Limon, a Napa merchant. McKenzie's car slid into a ditch and turned turtle."

STRONG SWIMMER IS DROWNED OFF WAIMEA

Jacob Sando Meets Death In Sad Sequel To Bathing Party

A verdict of asphyxiation, caused by drowning, was returned by a coroner's jury as the result of an inquest held yesterday afternoon on the body of a Spanish-American named Jacob Sando, who was drowned at Waimea, on this island, on Sunday afternoon.

The evidence was that Sando, who was on a launch lying off Waimea, left for shore in a skiff in company with another man, for the purpose of having a swim in a bathing pool near the shore. An arrangement was made whereby the skiff was to return to fetch the two bathers.

The skiff failing to show up, the men started to swim from the bathing pool to the launch, a distance of about half a mile. When more than half way from the shore Sando either became tired or was seized with cramps, and sank. He had previously told his companion that he was a strong swimmer and used to travel long distances in the water. Deceased was a native of Cuba, Miami.

The jurors were John J. Cook, M. Christensen, J. D. Eileen, James T. Cappelton, Jack Wesley and Lewis Perkins.

TARIFF ON SUGAR WILL BE RESTORED FOR REVENUE ONLY

Representative Alexander Says Government Cannot Get Along Without This Income

ADMINISTRATION WILL SEEK REPEAL OF CLAUSE

Free List Item In Underwood Measure Certain To Be Stricken Out

Representative Alexander of the Third Missouri congressional district, a Democrat of the old school, believes that the party must swallow its pride and admit that in times such as these the government can't get along without the revenue afforded by a tariff on sugar. He believes the administration will seek to retain a duty of one cent a pound instead of putting sugar on the free list next May.

Representative Alexander recently visited Salt Lake, a beet sugar state, where his opinions on the sugar tariff naturally were of much interest and were sought by the Salt Lake Tribune. That newspaper points out that he is a Democrat sympathetic with the policies of President Wilson and of sufficient prominence to have been chosen sponsor for the ship-purchase Act and the war risk insurance Act, both administration measures.

Representative Alexander does not believe a Democratic Congress ever will restore to sugar the protection it enjoyed under the Dingley or the Payne-Aldrich acts, but he does think that, for the sake of much needed revenue, the administration will seek to repeal that clause of the Underwood Act which puts sugar on the unconditional free list after May 1, 1916.

"The duty on sugar," he said, "now brings in between twenty-five and thirty-five millions of revenue yearly. Under the Payne-Aldrich tariff, it brought in about fifty-four millions. As a measure of revenue only, the administration is seriously thinking of repealing that part of the Underwood tariff which places sugar on the free list after May 1."

"If that is done, I think the government will not be forced to sell bonds or increase the war tax in order to get sufficient revenue to run the government."

"On account of the business depression caused by the European war, the postal department, which last year showed a favorable balance may drop behind."

War Decreases Revenues
The Administration has not been extravagant. The demands of a great nation have caused an increase in expenditures and of course the war has lessened not only the import revenues but the income tax receipts as well.

"I am heartily in favor of the stand taken by the Administration in regard to the foreign situation, and though Mr. Bryan's resignation was logical, in view of the fact that he had negotiated nearly all the new peace treaties confirmed by the Senate, I cannot say that I fully agree with his policy of peace at any cost. I am a man of peace, but I am for peace with honor."

JAPANESE PAPERS OPEN FIGHT ON IMMORALITY

Japanese editors are beginning to agitate against the presence of women of the underworld and their male agents and parasites in the tenements and even the respectable residence districts in growing numbers. The Japanese press demands that they be herded into the segregated quarter at Iwilei. Yesterday the Hoku suggested editorially that, though it might be very well for the Japanese ministers' association to protest against Sunday picnics, it could concentrate its energies to much better purpose on matters of real social consequence, such as the peril brought home to the young by the presence of women of ill repute in its midst.

NO BOMB IS FOUND IN BRITISH STEAMER

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) NEW ORLEANS, July 12—Captain Goudy of the British steamer Baron Napier has wirelessed that he has found no explosives aboard his ship. The steamer was warned by the U. S. navy department that explosives were placed aboard this steamer and the Howth Head, both of which sailed from a southern port for Europe carrying mules for the British army.

FRENCH PEASANTS ABSORB WAR BONDS BY BILLIONS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) PARIS, July 13—The minister of finance introduced in the chamber of deputies yesterday a bill raising the limit of bonds for the national defense from the sum of one billion, two hundred millions, fixed May 18, to one billion, four hundred millions. In the last eleven months the French public has absorbed war bonds aggregating one billion six hundred eighty millions, American money.

Shriners Reach Seattle With Their Mascot

Imperial Council Welcomes Arab Patrol of Aloha Temple and Baby Carabao

Advices received yesterday from San Francisco, are to the effect that seven temples of Mystic Shriners, representing pilgrims from Honolulu, San Francisco, Oakland, Reno, Nevada, San Diego, Los Angeles and Phoenix (Arizona), crossed the hot sands and arrived in Seattle in time to be present at the opening there of the imperial council yesterday morning. The caravan was in session until next Friday, inclusive. The pilgrims left the Oakland mole on Saturday night at eleven-forty o'clock in a special train of two sections, something like 400 Nobles composing the party.

The first section included Islam Temple of San Francisco, with patrol and Shrine band; Aloha Temple of Honolulu, with patrol; Ahmeh Temple of Oakland and representatives of Kerak Temple of Reno. The second section, that left shortly after, had on board the Shriners from Alhambra Temple of Los Angeles, with their own band and patrol; Al Bahr of San Diego and El Zaribah of Phoenix.

The travelers reached their destination yesterday morning, and after partaking of the festivities in the north, will return to California to arrange for the welcome to eastern members of the order who are preparing to visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

One of the interesting features of the California-Honolulu Nevada-Arizona special was the official mascot of Aloha Temple of Honolulu, nicknamed Nick. Nick is a baby carabao, that has made the long trip across the water just to be in the parade at Seattle. Nick went to San Francisco on the steamer Mauna in care of Chief Steward C. Y. Wilmarth, who acted as chief nurse to the little stranger. The carabao was consigned to George H. Angus, illustrious potentate of Aloha Temple, and remained in San Francisco biding the arrival of the party. Angus and "Sunny Jim" McCandless, former illustrious potentate of Aloha, went to Seattle in advance to arrange for their own Nobles. The remainder of the excursionists, fifty in number, reached San Francisco in the Matsonian on Tuesday, and spent a few days at the exposition before the special left for the north.

Nick, the mascot, so it appears, had a stormy passage. He was taken ill with mal de mer, and because of his value to the Shriners, he was removed from the hold of the vessel to the sailors' forecastle, where he enjoyed himself as best he could for the balance of the journey.

DRIVER ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Inquest On Child Killed By Auto Halted By Absence of Witnesses

A coroner's jury met yesterday afternoon to consider the case of N. Nakabayashi, a Japanese child, who was struck and killed on Sunday morning by an automobile driven by Tom Wah Poon, the accident occurring in Napa street near the Queen's Hotel.

Doctor Moore testified that the child died as a result of a fracture of the skull. The mother of the child swore that Poon's car was coming down Napa street toward town at a great rate of speed and that it struck her little boy in the middle of the road.

I. Nakabayashi, father of the boy, was also a witness. It developed that there were three passengers in the car when the accident occurred, one of whom was a man named Keadulu, who resides in Waikane, and another a helper whom the chauffeur was in the habit of taking with him on his trips over the Paia. The passengers are said to have run away when the boy was struck.

The inquest adjourned until this afternoon at half-past twelve o'clock, when it is expected that the passengers will be on hand to give their testimony. Tom Wah Poon was charged yesterday with manslaughter.

PRESIDENT OF T. K. K. TO ARRIVE ON MONDAY

He May Sojourn Here After Visit To Exposition

Soichiro Asano, president of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, will arrive in Honolulu July 19, bound for the San Francisco fair, in the Toyo Maru.

For some time his health has been in different and doctors have told him that the climate of Honolulu is likely to do more to restore him to full vigor than any other. Therefore it is probable that on his return from California he will spend several weeks here and perhaps months.

President Asano is a self-made man. He arrived in Tokio in 1871 without a penny in his purse and, borrowing money enough there to carry him to Yokohama, supported himself for a time as a peddler, and then began to buy and utilize the waste products of the Yokohama Gas Works. From that time his fortune grew rapidly until now he is a commercial power.

SEARCH IN VAIN FOR ROYAL FILM NOT IN ARCHIVES

'Movie' of Members of Congressional Party's Visit to Queen Liliuokalani Missing

MADE BY FERNANDEZ FOR PUBLIC ARCHIVES

Librarian Lydecker Claims It Is Not There—Authorities Are Investigating

Territorial officials have begun a hunt for a treasure movie film whose monetary value is only $109, but whose historical value is far greater and will increase as time goes by.

This film, ordered by the legislature to be stored away in safety in the territorial archives, is now the subject of much correspondence and investigation. R. C. Lydecker, librarian of the public archives has asked Acting Governor Thayer for information as to the whereabouts of the movie film; the acting governor has in turn put the same query to Acting Attorney General Arthur G. Smith and Mr. Smith has now begun a search that may even take some one across the Pacific to the mainland.

The film is none other than that made by Representative Edwin K. Fernandez at the time when the members of the late congressional party visited Queen Liliuokalani at her city home in Washington Place, Beretania street.

Lydecker Wants To Know Librarian Lydecker claims that the film should now be safely in his custody at the public archives, but that it is not there. One story has it that the film is now being exhibited in San Francisco, where it was seen by some of the returning Honolulu visitors to the big fair city. It is further claimed that Fernandez, after being paid for the film, sold it to mainlanders and that it went out of the Territory.

"The matter first came to my notice in a letter written to me by Mr. Lydecker," said Acting Governor Thayer yesterday. "I have referred it to the correspondence, to the attorney general's department."

The acting governor would say no more on the subject.

Fernandez On Hawaii Now
Representative Fernandez is on Hawaii now, but he may return this morning to Honolulu in the Mauna Kea. He has been away two weeks and the manner and way of his going was no secret. The Advertiser mentioned at the time that he was leaving on a trip to the Big Island.

Territorial officials have written Mr. Fernandez in regard to the much sought film. No answer has come. One may come today, even if the fifth district representative does not return this morning from Hawaii.

Inquiry by officials at Fernandez's home, it is said, elicited the information that as far as the folks at home, the film is in the public archives, but Lydecker says that it is not there and those that know Lydecker say that he knows what he is talking about.

Work All Right; Paid For
"I have seen the film exhibited and it was a mighty fine one," said Sena to Charles E. Chillingworth, president of the last session, to the Advertiser yesterday. "I supposed all the time that the film was safely stored at the archives. Apparently, it is not, for I have been pestered with inquiries from many on this score."

Mr. Fernandez was paid $109, the price of the work, for the valuable film. We had seen it exhibited, though we were not satisfied. We have been sent to the archives as the resolution passed by the legislature required. Fernandez said that it had been delivered and we took his word for it. Senator Ed Quinn approved the voucher and, as far as it goes, Representative Fernandez got his money.

Ask To Suspend Judgment
Fernandez' friends say that the public should suspend judgment and take all the stories they hear with the proverbial grain of salt, and a liberally large grain at that. They think that Representative Fernandez will not doubt clear up the dense mystery and explain this away when he returns. That he has not answered the letters written to him does not signify much, they say. The island of Hawaii is twice as big as the rest of the Territory and if he is traveling over the Big Island on business the letters may not have reached him and he may, even now, be in ignorance of the storm which is now hanging low over Honolulu's political horizon.

MACHINE GUN MEN TO GET MORE PAY

The war department has in preparation regulations for the qualification of members of machine gun companies of infantry and cavalry in different degrees of proficiency as determined by target practice on the range, and for the payment of extra compensation thereon in the same manner as gunners and marksmen receive extra pay. These provisions cannot become effective, however, until after the next session of congress, when a clause providing that this pay is to be inserted in the appropriate bill.
